Looking for large acreage that you can live and hunt on? Look no further than this 115+/- acres of wildlife habitat that provides awesome hunting opportunities for deer, turkeys and wood ducks. This property is the perfect spot to have a residence or hunting cabin that puts you close to the action. With 6 established stand sites to choose from, it's just a matter of picking what works best for the wind that day. There's a beaver pond on the north end of the property that provides wood duck hunting opportunities. The wetlands on this property are prime habitat for deer and turkeys. There is ample sign of both throughout the property. The property is primarily wooded with a mix of hardwoods and pines.

The property is accessed from a deeded easement from Midway Road. The easement continues on through this property and is used by a neighboring homeowner as well. The easement runs along the eastern border of the property and causes minimal impact on the property. There are approximately 108 acres that are accessed from the easement. There is a 7+/- acre tract that is split by Midway Road, just south of the main tract, and is not contiguous to the other 108 acres. The zoning code for this property is RA (Residential Agriculture.). All buyers will need to verify with the Robeson County Zoning Department that their intended use of the property is allowed.

There is also an area that has been used for a firing range. All existing stands, feeders and other equipment on the property do not convey with the sale and are not part of the sales price of the property. However, if the buyer would like to negotiate for these items, they can do so and purchase those items on a separate bill of sale.
