

TBD WHIPPOORWILL LN, MONTEREY, HIGHLAND

ACTIVE

Escape to your own private retreat with this exceptional affordable mountain property. Featuring a hardwood forest made up of Chestnut Oak and White Oak, hickories, and even some American Chestnuts, this land is perfect for hunters or nature enthusiasts seeking their own slice of paradise. A network of multiple roads provides easy access throughout the property, while a nice level potential build site halfway up the mountain could provide any future cabin with extraordinary mountain and valley views. A true hunters dream, this property provides natural terrain features to help catch rutting bucks moving across the mountains during November. Imagine after a quiet shuffle up your tree stand high on the ridge in the dark, watching the morning sun hit the valley floor below. The sound of shuffling feet through the fall leaves lets you know the family group of does is heading back up to their bedding from the fields below, just as you begin to see your breath in the cold morning air. Contact today to begin the process of making this dream a reality.
